TITLE: Educational computer coordination system

DATES: 1986-

ARRANGEMENT: None

ANNUAL ACCUMULATION: 0.50 cubic feet.

DESCRIPTION:

This computer system is used by the educational computer coordinator to track the inventory of hardware and software checked out to schools. Public schools use the software for teaching local deaf and blind students. Each school year, the coordinator reviews the previous year's inventory for new acquisition needs. The system contains a list of courseware (Speaking Speller, Daily Living Skills, Lessons in Syntax, Reader Rabbit, The Writing Workshop, Alien Addition, Galaxy Math Facts Game, Chemical Reaction, etc.); software variables (title, publisher, skill level, grade, audio capabilities, large print, etc.); and user information (teacher name, school, address, grade, and a description of what is issued to them). The system produces labels, user reports, and inventories. The agency program is supported by an Apple II GS computer.

DESCRIPTION:

The vision skills specialist at the Utah Schools for the Deaf and the Blind, who is an educator, conducts vision testing of all students, including infants and preschoolers. The children are tested to determine how they use their eyes and to develop program suggestions for teachers. The functional vision report documents observations and assessments of visual skills and includes the following: eye reports from doctors, vision history, specific observations, visual acuity, and other medical information. The record copy becomes part of the student's academic file and is eventually microfilmed. This information serves as documentation of the student's vision at one point in time, especially in case of future disability. An administrative copy is held by the vision skills specialist. Parents may view this information but can only receive copies of eye reports from their doctors; school copies of eye reports are not official.

TITLE: Special milk reimbursement claims

DATES: 1988-

ARRANGEMENT: Chronological

ANNUAL ACCUMULATION: 0.60 cubic feet.

DESCRIPTION:

These monthly claim reports document the number of daily milk servings to deaf and blind students during meals served at the school cafeteria. The reimbursement requests are filed monthly with the State Office of Education. All of the students at the Utah Schools for the Deaf and the Blind qualify for the Special Milk Program for Children under the Child Nutrition Act of 1966. The program under the administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture encourages student consumption of milk by reimbursing nonprofit schools for the full cost or partial cost of milk served to their students. The claim reports include the following information: program name, claim period beginning and ending dates, number of students eligible, number of meals served, comparative statistics for prior month, average price paid to distributor for milk, number of 1/2 pints for federal reimbursement, price of milk, signature, and date.

DATES: 1980-

ARRANGEMENT: Chronological, thereunder alphabetical by student surname

ANNUAL ACCUMULATION: 1.00 cubic foot.

DESCRIPTION:

The Utah Schools for the Deaf and the Blind do not provide student transportation, so they reimburse parents for bringing their children to school if they live more than twenty-five miles from the campus. These files document this reimbursement. The information includes name of student, address, home school district, cost of transportation on Utah Transit Authority (UTA) buses, round trips traveled per day with private transportation, round trip mileage, address to which reimbursement is sent, car pool information, claimant's signature, reimbursement rate, effective dates, and the signature of the school's Support Services Manager. ANNUAL ACCUMULATION: 0.30 cubic feet.

DESCRIPTION:

These files are created by the business office to document and coordinate student transportation to the school. Transportation has been an important service provided by the school since its beginning. When the majority of students used to live on campus, they would travel home on weekends, and arrangements would be coordinated through the school. Now the school pays for daily travel if the child lives more than twenty-five miles away. These files include transportation profiles, surveys, reimbursement reports, transportation committee reports, correspondence, and student behavior files detailing improper etiquette while riding in school vehicles.
