These are licensing and certification actions by the Division of Juvenile Justice Services. They include quality assurance information and providers licensed to provide services to the division (Utah Administrative Code R840-8 (1992)). The Division has statutory authority and responsibility for monitoring juvenile confinement in law enforcement facilities and promulgating juvenile confinement facility certification rules that law enforcement agencies must meet to securely confine youth. These rules, the "Juvenile Jail Standards" and the "Juvenile Holding Room Standards" ensure that youth are held in accordance to the Federal Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention(JJDP) Act. Law enforcement facility certification occurs annually and files include a facility certification letter and law enforcement policies and procedures which detail juvenile processing and confinement policies and procedures as set forth in the JJDP Act.
